

Run-on

Run-on ହେଉଛି ତତ୍କାଳ ମଧ୍ୟମ ଦୁଇଟି sentence ଏକାତ୍ର mixed ହେଉ ଥାଏ ଏବଂ ଖାଲି କାଳୀ break ଥାଏ ନା ।

ଉଦାହରଣ:

1. Rita decided to stop smoking she didn't want to die of lung cancer.
2. The exam was postponed the class was cancelled as well.

There are 4 ways to correct run-ons.

① Using ~~com full~~ fullstop and capital letter:

1. Rita decided to stop smoking. She didn't want to die of lung cancer.
2. The exam was postponed. The class was canceled as well.

② Use comma + a joining word (and, but, or, so, for, yet)

1. Rita decided to stop smoking, for she didn't want to die of lung cancer.
2. The exam was postponed, and the class was canceled as well.

② Using semicolon :

1. Rita decided to stop smoking; she didn't want to die of lung cancer.

2. The exam was ~~postponed~~: postponed; the class was canceled as well.

④ Using subordination
(As, because, until, if, though, when, since)

1. Because Rita didn't want to die of lung cancer, she decided to stop smoking.

2. When the exam was postponed, the class was ~~cancel~~ canceled as well.

⑤ Sometimes semicolon ~~is~~ ~~not~~ transitional word (however, moreover, in addition, consequently, otherwise, also, ~~instead~~) ^{+ comma} use ~~not~~ run-on mistake fix ~~not~~

⑥ A new car is always fun to drive the payments are never fun to make.

→ A new car is always fun to drive;
however, the payments are not fun to make.

1. My father is a very sentimental man he still has my kindergarten drawings.
 2. Sue dropped the letter into the mailbox then she regretted mailing it.
 3. Certain street names are very common the most common is "Park."
 4. Bacteria are incredibly tiny a drop of liquid may contain fifty million of them.
 5. The fastest dog in the world is the greyhound it can run over forty-one miles an hour.
 6. Mandy's parents speak only Chinese she speaks Chinese, English, and French.
 7. My iPod stopped working its battery needs to be charged.
 8. A shadow on the kitchen wall was lovely it had the shape of a plant on the windowsill.
 9. The little girl hated seeing her father drink one day, she poured all his liquor down the kitchen drain.
 10. Children have been born at odd times for instance, James was born on February 29 during leap year.
-

1. A new car is always fun to drive _____ the payments are never fun to make.
2. The fork that fell into our garbage disposal looks like a piece of modern art _____ it is useless.
3. Auto races no longer use gasoline _____ spectators have nothing to fear from exhaust fumes.